DETAILED ACTION

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1,3-10,34-38 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 101

35 U.S.C. 101 reads as follows:

Whoever invents or discovers any new and useful process, machine, manufacture, or composition of matter, or any new and useful improvement thereof, may obtain a patent therefor, subject to the conditions and requirements of this title.

Claims 1,3-10,34-38 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 101 because the claimed invention is directed to non-statutory subject matter.

To meet the requirements of 35 U.S.C. §101, "(t)he claimed invention as a whole must accomplish a practical application. That is, it must produce a useful, concrete and tangible result." M.P.E.P. § 2106(II)(A) (quoting State Street Bank & Trust v. Signature Financial Group, Inc., 149 F.3d 1368, 1373; 47 USPQ2d 1596, 1601 (Fed. Cir. 1998)).

Claims 1,3-10,34-38 appear to be an abstract idea rather than a practical application of the idea. Claims 1,3-10,34-38 do not result in a physical transformation nor does it appear to provide a useful, concrete and tangible result. Therefore, claims 1,3-10,34-38 appear non-statutory.

Further, the claims are directed to a judicial exception; as such, pursuant to the Interim Guidelines on Patent Eligible Subject Matter (MPEP 2106)), the claims must have either physical transformation and/or a useful, concrete and tangible result. The claims fail to include transformation from one physical state to another. Although, the claims appear useful and concrete, there does not appear to be a tangible result claimed. Merely applying a systematic correction factor to an approximation would not appear to be sufficient to constitute a tangible result, since the outcome of the applying a systematic correction factor to an approximation step has not been used in a disclosed practical application nor made available in such a manner that its usefulness in a disclosed practical application can be realized. As such, the subject matter of the claims is not patent eligible.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 1,3-10 would be allowable for reasons of arguments presented by the applicant in the amendment letter received on 09/21/2006 and claims 34-38 would be allowable for the same reasons as indicated in claim 1 if Applicant amends the claims to overcome the rejection discussed above.
